One who travels widely in the United States and searches the Directories and Telephone lists finds the names Tomb and Thom very widely distributed but rarely showing more than a few individual names. The name Tomb seems to have come mainly from North of Ireland sources—Scotch-Irish is the usual designation. Thom may come from North of Ireland, but even then, mostly may be traced back toward Aberdeenshire, Scotland. Branches under the name are not uncommon in other sections of Great Britain.

The "Old" Matthew of this genealogical study spelled it Tomb. He lived, however, all his life among Scotch and Scotch-Irish Presbyterians. One of his sons shifted back to the Scotch form of Thom. Families using both spellings are traced back to the same or adjacent communities. Without claiming to have traced the actual shift in spelling, the Editor is fairly convinced that the Scotch form antedates the North of Ireland form.

Etymologists have offered various explanations of the origin of the name all the way from the designation of a sun god in Egypt, or of some kind of a hillock or knoll, to a word for town in Cambodia. Enough to say we find it for a lot of folks who trace themselves back to Scotch-Irish and Scotch lines and here and there a Germanic family. The origins in the mists of the past will be forgotten here. Primarily one group has been studied.

Like the members of many family groups, especially among those who led or followed closely after in the settling of the central west, we kept few family records. Our parents talked freely of those they remembered but wrote little or nothing down, except here and there a note in a family Bible. Then when we had gone well past the half-century mark, we began to wonder who our ancestors and connections were and what they were. The result is a partial genealogy of our connection, brought together with the aid of many of them. Among those who sketched their closer relations, may be listed Miss Margaret Mellinger and Mrs. Martha Wilson Tool, who collected the data for Mrs. Ann E. Tool and her family. Mrs. Wilson helped also with the members of the family of her own grandfather, Matthew Tomb ("Yankee Math"); Mrs. Ethel Jobe covered the descendants of Alexander McCoy Thom.

The editor has struggled with genealogical number systems until he is minded to try a new one. The immigrant ancestor, here Matthew Tomb, is designated A; his first child, Margaret, A1; his eighth, Matthew, is A8. The digit used for the individual is the order of birth in the family. The second Matthew, A8, named his first child Mary, A81, and her fifth, William Wilson, becomes A815. How far this can go without becoming too cumbersome is a question—but the numerical order of the digits reading from left to right tells the generation in America, and the actual digit tells the place in the particular family. For any tenth child X is used. We have not been forced to find an eleventh. The Tomb descendant is placed first in listing married couples; the number is assigned to the descendant, the letter W is added for a wife or H for a husband.

This system has one advantage over all consecutive numbering systems. There are gaps here and there. New ones are being born. If such information is found, the new names drop automatically into their place without disrupting the Le double est une forme d'œuvre qui démontre aussi un certain degré de répétition et de dualité. Il peut être une œuvre qui utilise deux matériaux ou deux types d'expressions artistiques, ou deux personnes dans une même œuvre. whole list as occurs in a growing consecutively numbering series. If one could wait until he had them all or if children were not added constantly, the consecutive system might be all right.

The writers are quite aware that the genealogies here are not complete. The main effort made, brought our data for many groups to 1935. Changes brought to our attention since have been put into the manuscript. Mistakes in dates, in the spelling of names, incompleteness in citing names, absence of data as to wives and husbands—all are freely admitted. The user is advised that we did this because we are interested in you all—who you are, where you live and anything we can find out about you. Having collected what we could about you, we assumed that some of you would share our curiosity. The information given about certain lines is not discrimination—it merely tells you what we have collected. If we had the information about others it would have been given. The work of collecting has fallen to Homer Thom at Rankin, Illinois, the drudgery of editing on Charles Thom. We have paid our own bills. A minimum edition is being printed and paid for by Charles Thom, Port Jefferson, New York. Any of those interested in owning a copy will be charged a fair percentage of the printing cost.

Elizabeth Tomb b. 10-8-1808; m. Frank Bishop A9h	A9
No other record of A9 or A9h

*Some lists give this third name as Haley. Apparently the Tombs used Haley or Hallie, according to Dr. Prine corruptions of Mahala; only the Newlins used Sarah.

Note 1: Some of these figures look questionable, but they are all we have.

Note 2: In the "History of Brown Co., Ohio," the congregation of the Presbyterian Church of Russellville was called to arrange for building a house of worship. Among the members listed were "Matthew and Fanny Tomb," with George McCoy and Isaac Sutherland among the Elders. (No. 298 in McCoy Book).

On p. 656, among the Township officers of Jackson Township were William Tomb, Clerk, and Robert D. Tomb, Lister. Tradition put the farm of Matthew Tomb near "Ash Ridge" in Jackson Township.

A—MATTHEW TOMB

The immigrant ancestor whose line is traced here was a unique figure for about half a century in Brown Co., Ohio. He was a big man, and physically a strong man, who helped clear away the forests of southern Ohio. He brought up a large family. Scotch-Irish by descent he left his home and came to America, according to his own record, during the Revolutionary War. How he got here is not recorded. He is said to have tried farming in eastern Pennsylvania, again in Western Pennsylvania, then joined the Pennsylvanians who followed the south side of the Ohio River into Kentucky. There he was an abolitionist and the slavery question was hot. He moved across to Brown Co., Ohio, at an age of about 50 where he spent the next 50 years. His age at death is variously given as 102, 103 or 104.

There is no record of his parentage that we have been able to find. The Bible which Matthew is said to have received from his Mother and carried, wrapped in oil cloth, when he came to America has long been in possession of John H. Wilson (recently deceased). It gives the date of birth as Feb. 11, 1758. The place of birth is not given. He is said to have sailed at least from the Belfast region (County Antrim) Ireland. The record in the Bible says he came to America at the age of 21, that is 1779. How and under what auspices he reached America in the middle of the Revolutionary War is not told. Where he went is equally vague. Our Father, A. S. Thom, passed to us the tradition that he was at one time a farmer where the Germantown section of Philadelphia stands today. Washington Co., Pa., is vaguely mentioned as a stopping place. The next real report puts him in Mason Co., Kentucky, with his wife whose maiden name was Frances Crozier. Of her we have no data. The oldest child, Margaret, was born Sept. 6, 1797. The ninth, Elizabeth, was born Oct. 8, 1808. In eleven years, nine children were born and all of them lived to maturity. Matthew was 39 when Margaret was born—it is safe to assume that Frances was not older than 25. All of these children were born, according to tradition, in Kentucky, probably in Mason County. The next date we can fix is furnished by the record in the Office of the Adjutant-General of Ohio, which reports that Matthew Tomb enlisted in General Murray's Brigade, Ohio State Militia, in the War of 1812, on July 28, 1813. He was discharged as a private Sept. 9, 1813. Tradition in the family says, his house was burned while he was with his regiment and his sick wife was carried out of the burning building. This may account for his discharge. He was in the Company of Capt. Joseph Kratzer, Regiment of Col. Wm. Key. This record shows that he was in Brown Co., Ohio, by or before 1813. The History of Brown Co., Ohio, tells that John McCoy, with whose family they were closely associated, moved from Kentucky to Brown Co. in 1811. Matthew and Fanny Tomb are listed among the members contributing to build a meeting house for the Presbyterian Church of Russelville in 1829. In 1825 his son, William, was "Clerk" and Robert D. was "Lister" of Jackson Township, Brown Co.

A few traditions are left to us of Matthew Tomb. He appears to have been a man of rather violent passion. A backwoodsman, he shows both their strength and their weakness. When he had two felons in adjacent fingers, he went to the chopping-block, held a chisel over the offending digits and had a neighbor hit it with the axe. Another item is that his standing offer was to swing an axe all day in the forest with his right arm against the ordinary man using both, and the other item of tradition says he could whip any man of his time in that territory. No record is given us as to the details of such battles, but in that day such challenges did not go untested. We may assume, therefore, that if he were living now he might be under bonds to keep the peace.

A1 MARGARET TOMB (MORRISON)

b. 9-6-1797 in Kentucky
m. in Brown Co., Ohio, to Steven Morrison A1h
d. 12-21-1873 at Eureka, Ill.; buried in Mt. Zion Cemetery
Son: Alexander Morrison A11
b. 1-5-1822 in Brown Co., Ohio
Farmer near Downs Illinois
d. 2-12-1878; buried beside his mother in Mt. Zion Cemetery, near Eureka
Unmarried

Alexander Morrison was a well-to-do farmer who died by accident on the Illinois Central R. R. at Normal, Illinois. Alfred G. Thom, A46, then of Lacon, Ill., was administrator of his estate and the farm was bought at Administrators Sale by Angus S. Thom, A43, of Minonk, who, finding it impossible to finance both farms, sold the Morrison tract at Downs, Ill., to Robert Gray then also of Minonk.

I have stood by the graves of Margaret and her son, Alexander, in Mt. Zion Cemetery (CT).

A2 WILLIAM TOMB

b. 1-9-1799; in Mason Co., Kentucky
m. Jane Graham in Brown Co., Ohio A2w Lived many years at Eureka, Illinois
d. buried in Mt. Zion Cemetery Daughter: Frances Tomb (Wood) A21
 b. 3-18-1827

William Tomb worked at the trade of Butcher most of his life. His financial ventures mostly failed, hence he passed his last years in poor circumstances. His brother, Matthew, took charge of his body at death and arranged for his burial in his (Matthew's) lot in Mt. Zion Cemetery; the graves are unmarked but were pointed out to us by Mrs. Orrilla Barrett as next to Mary E.'s grave—her aunt who died in 1862 at the age of 22.

A21 FRANCES TOMB and JOHN G. WOOD A21h

m. in Brown Co., Ohio, 1823, to John Newlin

b. Marietta, Ohio, 1797

d. Hennepin, Ill. 1854

d. July 1832 in Waynetown, Ind.

Children born in Ohio:

1. Angeline Newlin (Johnson) A31
b. 1824

2. James Crozier Newlin A32
b. 7-27-1828

3. John Wilson Newlin A33
b. 5-7-1832

Sarah was the second wife of John Newlin. She became a consumptive and died in 1832 a few weeks after John W. was born. Gertrude Newlin tells that John put the baby out to board with another family and was quickly married to wife No. 3. Sarah is buried in the "Old Cemetery" East of Waynetown, Ind. She died in the summer before my father was born and so far as I remember he never said anything about her and not much of his Newlin cousins. The name Hallie appears in some references to her and Haley. To the Newlins, she is Sarah. There's no question as to her identity as Matthew Tomb's third child but how names were arranged is nowhere recorded as far as we have found. A letter from John Newlin at Waynetown to Margaret Morrison at Russellville, Ohio, makes use of the name Sarah and makes inquiries about other members of the Tomb family. John H. Newlin of Indianapolis has that letter and John Newlin's cash book.

John Newlin was born in Marietta, Ohio, but in the 1820s kept store in Ripley, Ohio. He dealt in a large way with cooperage, hence came in contact with the Tombs who came to Brown Co. early in the century. He was the son of Nathan Newlin and his wife, Jane Kelly. John's first wife was a McConnell and left him one child, Nathaniel. Then he married Sarah Tomb—whose name appears in several forms in the family lists—but in the Newlin lists collected by John's granddaughter, Gertrude, she is Sarah. They were married in 1823; they moved to Waynetown, Indiana, in 1832 and Sarah died of tuberculosis there within a few months, leaving her third child, John Wilson Newlin, only a few weeks old.

John Newlin shortly afterward married Ann Denniston McCloskey, who bore him 2 sons: Samuel W. Newlin born in 1835, father of Gertrude, was one of them. He died in 1935 at the age of 100 years and 8 months. The other, Abner, born 1837, was never married. After Ann died, John married a fourth time—Cynthia Miller, who bore him five more sons whose families are scattered in Western Indiana and Central Illinois. He died near Hennepin (Putnam Co.) Ill., in 1854, where he had moved from Waynetown in 1852.

In John Newlin's account book the names of Alice Tomb and Albert Tomb appear but are not recognized by any of us.

Civil War Soldier

A4 Alexander, fourth child of Matthew and Frances Crozier Tomb, was born in 1801, presumably in Kentucky. He was perhaps 10 or 11 years old when they crossed the Ohio River and established themselves on a farm near Russellville (on "Ash Ridge," tradition says). Alexander learned the coopers trade and went to New Orleans once on a flat-boat carrying staves. His descendants have an osage orange cane that he cut in New Orleans and used as a staff on the way back on foot. His name appears from time to time in the day book of the store business kept by John Newlin in Ripley, Ohio, in the 1820s. Alexander married Priscilla McCoy on July 26, 1826. She was the sixth child of Alexander McCoy and Frances Katherine Sutherland (McCoy). (P. 156 in McCoy book). They lived in a log house on a farm near Russellville until 1848 at which time they sold what they had in Ohio and drove to Woodford Co., Illinois.

The McCoys being Scotch, Alexander changed the spelling of the family name back to the Scotch form, Thom, which has been continued by his descendants. The others continued the spelling Tomb. The exact date of the change does not appear in any record seen.

Alexander settled in Linn Township and lived on a farm until the early years of the Civil War. At that time he sold what he had in Linn Township, moved to Lacon, Marshall Co., and continued there the remainder of his life, working as long as he was able in the wood lots along the Illinois River, where he was known as a "feller"—one who cut trees for the saw mills. He is buried in Lacon Cemetery.

Alexander and "Irish Math" who was also husband of his sister, Mary, made the trip from Russellville, Ohio, to Woodford Co., Illinois, together in 1848. (Irish Math's record says 1849 in the history of Woodford County.) Manifestly Irish Math had joined his relatives—the family of "Old" Matthew and Frances in Ohio where he married Mary, who appears to have been twenty years older than he was.

Two sons, Alfred G. and Isaac M., volunteered at the outbreak of the Civil War. Isaac died of disease in an Army hospital at Keokuk, Iowa, and is buried in Morsetown Cemetery. Alfred was in General Sigel's ill-fated expedition up Red River, was taken prisoner and spent 15 months in the stockade at Tyler, Texas. He returned to Lacon, Illinois, at the close of the war, where he kept the jail for a time. He was an expert in operating lumber milling machinery, and a fair carpenter. He later moved to Waukegan, Illinois, where he died in 1901. He was buried in the family lot at Lacon. Like most war prisoners with time on his hands, he came away an expert at some games:—he was a high class checker and chess player.

Alexander McCoy Thom was an expert mechanic, and inventor in farm machinery lines. In attempting to float a factory in Lacon, he bought property which proved to have an unsound title and could not obtain the necessary credit to carry the business. His family later moved to Aledo, Ill.

A43 Angus Sutherland Thom was born in Brown Co., Ohio, and named after Angus Sutherland, who came to America in 1773 with his 10 children. Alexander McCoy came over on the same boat and married Frances Katharine Sutherland. Their daughter, Priscilla, became the wife of Alexander Thom. The Thoms and McCoys lived in the same communities in Kentucky, then Ohio, and many of them moved to Woodford County, Illinois, about the same period. They were all Presbyterians of some variety, all abolitionists and many of them served in the Union Army.

A. S. Thom was a farmer in Woodford County, Illinois, living just outside Minonk from 1865 until his last few years. He was a Presbyterian Elder, who started out with very little education but was so impressed with its value that he made sacrifices to obtain it for his sons. Familiar in his youth with the voices of Lincoln, Douglas, Calhoun, and many other great figures of the Civil War and reconstruction period, he was keenly interested in public affairs, although he held only one minor office and early abandoned active political work.

Of his sons, Homer spent some years in office work with the coal company of Minonk, then turned to dealing in grain, spending the years from 1902 on in Rankin, Illinois. He has been Village Clerk for many years, Treasurer and later Elder in his Church.

Harry and Charles graduated from Lake Forest (Ill.) College '94 and '95. Harry was a big man, a formidable football player, then turned to the study of law. He practiced in Minonk. A business man's tribute made at his death was: "Harry evidently did not want money for he could have had it. He was just as often looking after the interests of the poorest man in town, who could not pay him a cent, as the richest." A versatile man, he was a man of great physical strength, an excellent carpenter, a fair worker in iron, a moderately good brick-layer, with a keen knowledge of trade usages. He superintended the building of his father's town house—doing anything in which he was particularly interested, himself. As President of the Board of Trustees, he saw to the building of the Presbyterian Church—not only from the distance—he had no hesitation of climbing to the scaffolding to see that work was done to his liking. He learned surveying in college, and when he became a lawyer he became also the referee in land titles for many controversies within driving distance, handling not only the law but the surveys himself.

Charles, after college graduation, turned first to teaching interrupted by graduate work which yielded an A. M. at Lake Forest, and a Ph. D. at Missouri. Then following a two year interval at Cornell he entered the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture as an investigator of fungi, especially the common molds and their function in the dairy, the household, the food factory and the field. After being connected with many scientific societies and president of several of them, he retired to Port Jefferson, N. Y. in 1942 after more than 38 years in the Department. The record of service in the Department, membership in many groups of scholars, including the National Academy of Sciences, brought consulting opportunities to keep an active interest in problems after retirement. The whole record is found in Who's Who in America and many other biographical references. His wife (married in Port Jefferson in 1906) died there in 1942. Their son, Charles Richard, already a successful lawyer in Port Jefferson, entered the Army Reserve before the outbreak of war in 1941, and was called as an Infantry Officer in 1942. In September, 1944, Charles married Charlotte J. Bayles, who had been an intimate friend of the family for forty years.

William Herrick Thom was for many years organist in his home Church; then leaving Minonk traveled widely in the United States, working in various industries, mainly agricultural. He has lived for some years in Missouri.

A6h Matthew, known to the family as "Irish Math," was born on the farm referred to as Tam-le-duff, County "Derry," Ireland. He was one of the four sons of Andrew Tomb and Jane Willey Tomb, who came to America. He came to New York in 1842, where he worked as a baker. Then he followed "Old Matthew" (A) to southern Ohio. Although no records have been found, the relationship was evident in the fact that the younger man followed his "cousin" into the neighborhood of Russellville, Ohio. There he married Mary. In 1848 (fide A. S. Thom), Matthew joined his brother-in-law, Alexander, in moving to Illinois and settling in Woodford County. He made his home on a farm near Eureka and became a successful and well-to-do farmer. Matthew and Mary are buried in Mt. Zion Cemetery. His son, John W., continued on the farm as equally successful and prosperous. Andrew left the farm in the early 1880s to become a government storekeeper (Internal Revenue Service) in Pekin, and later lived in Peoria.

John married Lydia Crow, a member of one of the family groups that had come from Ohio together in 1848 and settled in the same general community. Such groups were fairly characteristic of the period. Another group from Russellville settled together in and about Minonk, 25 miles northeast of Eureka, where A. S. Thom later joined them. John's daughter, Orrilla, married Isaac Barrett, and lives in Eureka at present. The Barretts were farmers in Tazewell county to the southeast of Eureka, where they had large farms and were breeders of fine horses.

His son, Charles Nelson Tomb, became an electrician and has lived in various industrial centers, especially Rochester, Indiana.

NOTES: In Roy L. Moore's History of Woodford Co., Ill. (P. 235), where Andrew and Matthew are discussed, the remark is added—"Another Matthew, cousin of Andrew and Matthew, came through from Ohio" in 1855. Manifestly "Yankee Math," A8, was intended, but aside from being a brother-in-law of "Irish Math" was he also a cousin? In other words, how close a relationship was there between "Old" Matthew and the Andrew who married Jane Willey?

NOTE 2: The recurrence of the names Alexander, Matthew, John, Andrew, led to family usages Long John, Little John, Johnnie, Irish Math, Yankee Math, etc.

THE TAM-LE-DUFF TOMBS

A parallel and apparently related line

The investigations necessary in making such a record as that of "Old" Matthew Tomb's descendants involves the exploration of many lines which fail to connect with the one studied. Such failure does not necessarily exclude relationship. In particular cases blood connection is indicated but not defined. For example "Old" Matthew came to America (by his own word handed down) presumably in 1779. He never went back. There are even traditions that he could not write, but they are doubtful. Yet in the 1840s, another Matthew came to America, worked for a time in New York City, then went on to Brown Co., Ohio, and joined the older man's family, and married his daughter, Mary. He moved to Illinois in the wagon train with Alexander, and was joined there by his brother, Andrew—they were called "cousins." But they were not less than 50 years younger than Old Matthew. Members of both of these lines settled in Woodford Co., Illinois, and were so closely associated that their record, as far as followed, is introduced here as Series B—the capital letter designating Alexander Tomb of Tam-le-duff County, Derry, Ireland.

SERIES B

B. Alexander Tomb of Tam-le-duff, Londonderry, Ireland (dates not known to us) is the name determined as ancestor of a parallel line apparently related to the American group already considered. Careful checking indicates that he was father of two sons who enter this record directly or through community association. These were:

1. William, who married Susan Carson B1
2. Andrew, who married Jane Willey B2

No dates for either of the four have been obtained but certain indications as to period can be based upon children as shown in the following item. The names only of the wives are given.

B1 WILLIAM TOMB, son of ALEXANDER (B)

m. Susan Carson B1w

Children:

1. Elizabeth (see also B22h) B11
 - b. 2-3-1828 in Ireland
 - 7-18-1915 in Eureka
 - m. Andrew Tomb in New York
2. John B12

The oldest. Came to Michigan. No other record
3. Alexander B13

Came to New York and on to California. No other record
4. Margaret B14

m. Kirk in Ireland; came to New York
5. Matilda B15

Came to New York; no other record

m. Tom Burton

One daughter, who married J. M. Hazard B15h

Efforts at contact have failed
6. William B16

Stayed in Ireland

William, B1, is said to have come to America about 1850, to have returned to County "Derry" and remained there. He was referred to by the family—quoting A. S. Thom—as "Uncle Billy." William Wilson (A815) passed us another tradition that William later came again to Ohio, but it is doubtful.

B2 ANDREW TOMB of Tam-le-Duff, son of ALEXANDER

m. Jane Willey B2w

NOTE: Neither Andrew nor his wife seem to have come to America. We have no dates as to either of them. Eight children are reported; of them four who came to America as given in certain lists, are named here:

1. Andrew Tomb B21
 - b. 1-15-1822 in Ireland
 - d. in Eureka, Ill. 1894

2. Matthew Tomb. See A6h	B22
b. 1823 in Ireland
d. 1888 in Eureka, Ill.
3. Margaret Tomb	B23
m. Michael Larkin	B23h
Extensive connections and descendants, centering at Pittsburgh, Pa.
4. Anna Tomb	B24
m. Elwood Kelley	B24h
Lived at Philadelphia
No descendants are known

B21 ANDREW TOMB

b. 1-15-1822 in Ireland, son of Andrew Tomb and Jane Willey. Came to America at 19, i. e., 1841, apparently first lived in New York City. Went to California in 1849; returned to New York in 1853.
m. Elizabeth Tomb on Sept. 27, 1853 in New York	B22w
Returned to Ireland with his wife's father, William, who remained there. Returned to America 1854, going directly to Woodford Co., Illinois, and settling near Eureka.
d. 6-10-1894

Children:

1. Mary Tomb	B221
b. 8-6-1854 in Ireland
Living in Eureka, Ill.
Never married; living but in hospital Oct. 1942
2. William Tomb	B222
b. 1-10-1857
3. Andrew Tomb	B223
b. 8-6-1859
4. James Tomb	B224
b. 11-23-1863
Unmarried; address Shelton, Wash. (1936)
5. John C. Tomb	B225
b. 12-10-1865
Walnut, Ill.

Andrew B21 manifestly followed his brother, Matthew (Irish Math A6h) when he came to Eureka in 1854. In his own notice in the History of Woodford Co. he is recorded as going to California via the Straits of Magellan in 1849, then back to New York in 1853 where he married Elizabeth and returned with her and her father, William, to Tam-le-Duff, where he had been born. They came back and joined his brother, Matthew, and some more of the group at Eureka and in that vicinity in 1854 or 5. They were "well to do" people.

B221 Mary Tomb, daughter of Andrew and Elizabeth, was born in Ireland in 1854, on the farm upon which her father, Andrew, and his father, Andrew, were born. The name given, Tam-le-Duff, is not explained except as the home of Alexander Tomb (B), who is the earliest of their family of whom a record has been available. Mary lived practically her whole life in or near Eureka, Illinois. Unfortunately this record was started after she had become quite old and more or less uncertain in memories. She apparently believed that her father and "Old" Matthew Tomb were cousins.

B222 WILLIAM TOMB, lived in Wichita, Kansas

b. 1-10-1857
d. 1-28-1927

m. Arabella May Zody 4-17-1881 B222w

Children:

1. Florence May Tomb
b. 6-4-1882 B2221
m. John T. Means, farmer, 10-7-1903 B2221h

Sons:

1. John Marvin Means

3. Fae Tomb B2233
 b. 9-13-1899
 m. Paul S. Montjoy, druggist, 9-2-22 B2233h
 Son: Paul Tomb Montjoy B22331

In the course of our investigation we have run across data about such groups as those listed below:

1746 Alexander Thom from Scotland settled in Virginia.

1736 William Thom from Londonderry, Ireland, settled in New Hampshire.

1773 Joseph Thom settled in Westmoreland Co., Pa.

1870 William Thom of Old Deer, Aberdeenshire, settled in Lake Co., Illinois.
 Others of his brothers settled in several places.

1750 John Thom from Ireland settled Guilford Co., N. Carolina.

1837 Alexander Thom from Aberdeenshire settled in Ashland Co., Ohio.

Dr. J. W. Thom of Gosport, Indiana, is great-great grandson of Joseph Thom (1773) and has made a study of many of these lines over a long time. It is hoped that much of the riddle of family origins and movements may be cleaned up by his continued activity.
